The global Catholic sisterhood is a vibrant network of more than 700,000 vowed women religious rooted in their profound faith and belief in the dignity of the human person. Catholic sisters are committed leaders and advocates for the communities they serve to foster peace, equity and justice. Through their hands-on ministries and local, national and global partnerships, Catholic sisters transform the lives of children, youth, families and communities around the world, particularly those suffering from structural disadvantages. Conrad N. Hilton had deep respect and admiration for the work of Catholic sisters. The Catholic Sisters Initiative enthusiastically continues his legacy by supporting strong and sustainable congregations, effective services and collaboration among Catholic sisters worldwide.

Ideal state

The global Catholic sisterhood is a network of local, national and international leaders. Their lives offer prophetic witness as they lift up the value of human dignity and advocate for the poor and underserved through strong and sustainable congregations. Through their ministries and partnerships, sisters help to transform the lives of children, youth and families living in disadvantaged conditions so they are on the path to self-sufficiency and independence, contributing to the vibrancy of their local communities.

History and background

Since 1944, the Conrad N. Hilton Foundation has supported Catholic sisters at home and abroad. Phase I of the Catholic Sisters Initiative (2013-2018) addressed the membership, leadership and resource gaps that sisters face by increasing their capacity to form and educate effective leaders, as well as to attract and steward human and financial resources. The Phase I Strategy laid a strong education and training foundation for sisters around the globe by supporting 184 sisters to graduate with an advanced degree (641 enrolled during the strategy); 1,858 sisters to achieve a post-secondary training certificate; and 1,314 sisters to receive technical training for their ministries.

Phase II (2018-2020) of the Initiative reinforced the internal capacity and vitality of Catholic sisters and their congregations. The Foundation supported their work to deliver human development services to youth in the areas of education, food security, health care, anti-human trafficking and entrepreneurship. The strategy saw significant progress made across its four portfolios and cross-cutting activities, including 3,826 sisters trained in finance management or a ministry-related technical area; 491 sisters awarded advanced degrees; 35,655 youth reached through human development services run by sisters; and 4,195 students and their families from low-income households reached in the Archdiocese of Los Angeles. The success of the Phase II Strategy is a testament to the sisters’ strength and ingenuity, since a significant portion of program activities were undertaken during the COVID-19 pandemic.

Strategy25 (2021-2025) builds upon the successes of Phases I and II by continuing to bolster sisters’ formation and education while strengthening their partnerships with the Church, key networks and other entities. The Initiative will continue to support the sisters’ efforts to foster human development and support children, youth and families living in disadvantaged conditions on their pathways to self-sufficiency.
WHERE WE WORK

WHERE WE WORK

EQUITY FOCUS

- Ensure sisters have equitable access to education, spiritual formation, resources and leadership opportunities
- Support sisters and their congregations to ensure sisters age with dignity and have a high-quality life after a lifetime of service
- Support sisters’ ministries in serving children, youth and families who live in deeply disadvantaged situations
- Fund local congregations and networks, in addition to large international congregations and organizations

OTHER KEY METRICS

- Build mechanisms to lift sisters’ voices
- Leverage new funding sources to support elderly sisters and the financial sustainability of congregations
- Expand partnerships throughout the Church to create opportunities for sisters’ leadership on critical issues of human development
